Who am I

I am Icelandic living in Aarhus, Denmark. I have an urge to be constantly adapting any given surroundings in a creative manner as it suits the one living in it. The motive that has shaped my mind and spirit in such way is from growing up within the dynamic of Icelandic nature. Thus I think differently and have the means to execute any envisioned idea because of my multidisciplinary background.

Passions

Thinking beyond, future of humanity, sharing knowledge, learning, climbing, fishing, all outdoor activities in snow, cooking, meeting new people, and spending time with my family
